Not so Bad as it Might Be. Accounts vary as to the exact gains of the republicans in the elections in Indiana, Ohio, and Pennsylvania. It appears they have lost enough Members of Congress to throw them in a minority in the next Congress. The democrats will have at least 56 members from the northern States, to which if we add the 88 anti-republicans from the South, we have 124 members—a majority of 11 over the republican vote. If Lincoln should be elected, he will be powerless to carry out his irrepressible abolition doctrines, and the victory for which the woollies are so earnestly contending will prove a barren one—except so far as the division of spoils is concerned.

This fact should encourage democrats to persevere. All is not lost, nor are the results of the late election so disastrous as they at first appeared. With proper exertion a majority part at least of these States may yet be carried for Douglas. But to do this we must have better organization than we had at the late election, and every man must realize that he has a whole duty to his party and his country. There is no time to lose. The election day is nigh, and what is to be done must be done at once. Arouse, democrats! shake off the apathy which at present seems to paralyze your faculties, and go to work in earnest, like men determined to conquer. If this is done success may yet perch upon your banner. Even if we may at least be prevented getting a majority of the popular vote, and if the election goes to the House, he is far from beaten out of sight.

STATE OF EUROPE.

We are on the eve of events pregnant with the most important consequences, not so much to us, although we shall be affected by them greatly, but to the trembling nations of the old world which are in throes of delivery from the tyranny under which they have so long labored. A rapid glance at affairs in the eastern hemisphere will assist the reader in forming an opinion to some extent of the attitude of the nations. England occupies a glorious position. Non Intervention is her motto, although in principle, her sympathies are with the oppressed people of Hungary, Italy, Turkey and other countries of the Continent, and she will see that they shall have full opportunity of redressing their grievances, without foreign intervention, according to their own ideas.

France does not interfere. Her Emperor knows full well that it is only by his obedience to the public opinion of his people, that he can retain his proud eminence. When he talks about extending the frontiers of France to the coveted line of the Rhine, he flatters the pride of his people: but when he intimates the falsest idea of interfering with the regeneration and consolidation of Italy, which is the living expression of the liberal European thought, he will be overwhelmed.

He may, possibly, endeavor by the chicanery of diplomatism to thwart it, but it would avail him nought. But he would not even attempt that, for we verily believe that Louis Napoleon is a Liberal at heart, although circumstances have occasioned him to do things which go to destroy that conclusion. But, be that as it may, there are political necessities which utterly forbid his opposition to the plans of Victor Emanuel, who, in conjunction with the hero Garibaldi, aims to consummate the noble and patriotic idea of Italian Unity. Austria stands a monument of imbecility and decrepitude among the nations. As is the history of the Italian republics, in comparatively modern times, and the Greek republics of the ancient eras, so, to-day, is the history and position of the Austrian Empire manifested—one of the facts that a nation to be united must be homogeneous, and to be solidified, must have their various rights rigidly respected.

But will Austria interfere? She does not want to. This is proved by the fact that she desired that course she would have done so long ago, when she held Ancona, and when her interference might have been personal. What prevents her? It is not from want of love for his Holiness: it is not from indifference to the spread of revolutionary ideas, which are surging against her frontiers, and which are swelling in her bosom, waiting for a favorable moment to spring into action: it is not from intense dread of the crowning of Victor Emanuel King of Italy, with Garibaldi commanding the army of Venetia for him: but because the seeds of her own destruction are ripening. Tyrol, Gallicia, even the Military frontiers and, more than all, Hungary, which gave Francis Joseph the crown of St. Stephen, will have neither part nor lot with the misdeeds of the cabinet of Vienna, and therefore and will have in good time a government, such as they had in the ancient days. The Tyrol, the home of the Hapsburgs, which has ever been, even under the most trying circumstances, eminently loyal, is now in a state of open rebellion. There are many other matters we might mention now which would show the precarious tenure of the Austrian power, but want of space precludes.

Yet as the waves of revolution beat against the "quadrilateral," and Venetia, the last and the richest of her Italian possessions, is threatened to be torn from her, Austria will have no alternative however reluctant she may be, but to defend it to the last extremity. When Austria arrives at this point, when she shall the last resort of nations, when she fires the first cannon, it will be, in our opinion, the torch applied to the magazine. We are but on the threshold of this momentous subject, and though we are forced to close this paper abruptly, we shall refer to the matter again. Of course our readers will understand that we do not arrogate to ourselves any peculiar faculty of prevision, but it is right and our duty in our humble sphere, to set before our

☞In all respects it is fresh, and what it purports to be, the cheapest magazine in the world.

☞It is carefully edited by Mr Ballou, who has twenty years' experience in the Boston press.

☞Devoted to news, tales, poems, sketches of the sea, discoveries, miscellany, wit and humor.

It has a curious department, a literary department, household department, and matter especially for the ladies.

☞Each number contains original articles from more than twenty regular contributors.

☞Though published but six years, it has reached the extraordinary circulation of 120,000.

☞Any person enclosing one dollar to the proprietor, as below, shall receive the Magazine for one year. ☞Six copies of Ballou's Dollar Magazine are sent one year for Five Dollars—thus making it about 83 cents a year.

☞Now is the time to subscribe, as volume 13 is just about to commence.

DIED.

On Friday, Oct. 12th, of Inflammation of the Lungs, JOSEPH LOGAN, aged 72 years.

A Lunatic Lost.

ON the 24th of September, NICHOLAS MYER, Jr., was brought to his parents' home in this city, from the Lunatic Asylum in Indianapolis, by Sheriff Fleming. About noon next day he disappeared and has not since been found. He was last seen going toward Decatur, about nine miles from this city. His parents and friends are extremely anxious about him, and would be grateful to any one who may see him to take him in charge and send him to this city, or write us to his whereabouts. All charges will be paid. He is about 21 years of age, and about 5 feet 8 inches in height—He wears heavy black whiskers. He was dressed when he left in black coat and pants, black velvet vest, black Kossuth hat and calf skin boots. He is an intelligent looking man, and to a casual observer would not show any signs of insanity. We trust that all who may see the unfortunate man will at once take care of him. Address C. A. Reker, Ft Wayne, Indiana. Papers are requested to copy.

ATWOOD'S
QUININE TONIC
BITTERS.

The Best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the Public.

RECOMMENDED BY THE FACULTY
For its Superior Medicinal Qualities.

THIS elegant compound which has secured the confidence and endorsement of most of the leading Physicians of New England, is a palatable and efficient form of Quinine, containing all the peculiar virtues of Peruvian Bark, carefully combined with various tonics and stomachics, and cannot fail to meet the wants of the debilitated.

It is a mild tonic to the stomach, increasing the appetite assisting digestion, promoting a good dyspepsia, strengthening and invigorating to the digestive and nervous systems after prostration, diseases; and in fever and ague, or kindred complaints, its addition is invaluable.

For diarrhœa, dysentry and cholera morbus in this climate, it is the best remedy ever offered to the public, many testimonials of which can be seen by calling at the office.

One of the very best Physicians in Boston has said that it is the best preparation of Quinine he ever prescribed, for a family.

Put up in half pint screw-top bottles, in order that all may have the benefit of its use.

For further particulars see circulars and the printed circulars.

There is little nobody knows as the FEVER AND AGUE has smitten hundreds of thousands of persons throughout the world every year; and has never till now been met by successful medical treatment that has not produced cure.

Medicinal Diseases,

Which effect the lungs, the spleen, the liver, the heart, or other parts of the human organism. The INPECTINE is the natural antagonist of fevers and wherever combined with the skin, is absorbed by the interior organs, which rest easily in asmia and all the diseases toward those inflicted which produces a healthy action of the system.

Fevers of Asiatic malignant type cannot exist—No place is exempt from their curse which promote the evil issues of the disease. That being once removed by the system, andance of pure blood is restored, a healthy train of vital forces, the natural vigor of the patient returns, energy, and robust health is restored to a condition of

WONDERFUL EFFECTS.

Lemuel Boswell, of Pittsburg, for two years useless to himself and society a martyr to Chills and Fever cured in less than three weeks, and improved in weight 30 lbs.

Mary R. Bickhap, Sandusky, Ohio after almost losing her reason as well as strength, by Intermittent Fever, with Chills, restored to health in 20 hours.

J. R. Trout of Bedford, Mich., brought from death's door, having suffered for four years, made well in five weeks, and improved in two hours.

Adolphe Monsio, of France, relieved in one hour, while traveling in the cars on the Ft. Wayne and Chicago Railroad. He was apparently dying with chills.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA

A compound remedy, designed to be the most effectual Alterative that can be made. It is a concentrated extract of Para Sarsaparilla, so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effective antidote for the diseases Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Scrofulous complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove of immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found of the following complaints:—

Scrofula and Scrofulous Complaints, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases, Ulcers, Pimples, Blotches, Tumors, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, and Syphilitic Diseases, Mercurial Diseases, Dropsy, Neuralgia, Tic Doloureux, Diseases of the Bladder, Dyspepsia and Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Disease of the Kidneys, Female Weaknesses, Irregularities and Suppressions, Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Diseases, Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, and Diseases arising from a Disordered Stomach, Torpid Liver, or Impure Blood.

Even those who are suffering from the combined influence of many of these complaints, are speedily relieved by the use of this Sarsaparilla, and the reason why so many remarkable cures are recorded in our practice, is because no other remedy has ever been known which so completely purifies the blood, and thereby expels the seeds of disease.

Sarsaparilla has long been considered a valuable remedy, and so it is, when prepared in its full strength and purity, as we prepare it. But powerful as it is, when thus prepared, it is often inert, because of the impurities which destroy its effect. Hence, bitter and painful disappointment has followed the use of the variable extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, many of them being little more than a name. The absence of mineral and other injurious ingredients renders our preparation safe, certain, and reliable in its effects upon the system, and all may confidently rely upon it to do the work of purification, when it is thoroughly and fairly given a trial.

Purifying will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which fester in the blood at that season of the year. By the timely expulsion of them, many rankling disorders are nipped in the bud. Multitudes can, by the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the endurance of loathsome eruptions and ulcerous sores through which the system will strive to rid itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body, by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood wherever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions or sores; cleanse it when you find it is obstructed and sluggish in the veins—cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will warn you. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health, and live longer, by occasionally purifying the blood. Keep the blood healthy and all is well; but with this precaution the disordered humors will be sure to find vent, sooner or later, in some painful form, and the great machinery of life is deranged or overthrown.

Sarsaparilla has, and deserves much, the reputation of accomplishing great cures. But the world has been grievously deceived by preparations of it, partly because the drug alone has not all the virtues that is claimed for it, but more because many preparations, pretending to be concentrated extracts of Sarsaparilla, contain little or none of the article, or very little of it.

During the years we have been constantly manufacturing and selling large quantities of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no virtue whatever. Hence, bitter and painful disappointment has followed the use of the variable extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, many the name itself is justly degraded, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. And we think we have ground to believe it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. In order to secure their complete eradication from the system, the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on the bottle.
